Mayor Elect, Andy Cook, Announces New Police Chief for the City of Westfield

Mayor, Andy Cook, announced this afternoon his appointment for the police chief of the City of Westfield. Kevin Jowitt, was named by Mayor Cook as the City of Westfield's first police chief. "I couldn't be happier for the City of Westfield and our Police Department with this announcement", stated Cook as he revealed his appointment. Cook went on to say, "Westfield is fortunate to have acquired the skills and abilities that Mr. Jowitt will bring to our City, I couldn't be more excited for him and our staff." Kevin will officially begin his role as Police Chief of January 28, 2008, which will allow a smooth transition from the Sheriff's Department.

Kevin Jowitt attended undergraduate school at Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana. He is a veteran of law enforcement with greater than 31 years of experience. Kevin has completed greater than 3,000 hours of law enforcement and managerial training related to the industry. He most recently served as a Captain within the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department under the leadership of Sheriff Doug Carter. Kevin directed the affairs of the Investigative Division of the Sheriff.
